

STEEL WORKERS OUT

Serious Labor Troubles in the Vicinity of Pittsburg.

AMALGAMATED MEN MUST GO.

The Carnegie Steel Works at Homestead Will Discharge Their Present Employees and Run Their Mills with Non-Union Men Hereafter.

PITTSBURG, June 29.—The officials of the Amalgamated association were yesterday informed that "every man in the employ of the Carnegie steel works at Homestead will be discharged on July 1."

The Amalgamated officials who have taken every precaution possible to preserve the peace, and have advised the men against using forcible means to gain their point, at once gave orders that the information should be guarded secretly until it is finally confirmed by the members of the firm themselves.

The story has it that at a special meeting of the officials of the Carnegie interests held yesterday, it was decided that every union man in the employ of the firm at the Homestead works, from the highest down to the lowest laborer, will be paid off in full on July 1 and discharged at once. The present scale expires on the 30th inst., and it is asserted the firm has determined to run the mill non-union hereafter.

A member of the Amalgamated association, in speaking of the story, said: "We get our information that the men are to be discharged direct from the throne, though, of course, the Carnegie people have not sent us official information to that effect. This is the surprise they have promised their men, and it certainly is startling, coming with the color of authority it has. The same gentleman says that notwithstanding the efforts that have been made to make everything appear peaceable, there is an undertone that is liable to burst forth like a volcano without a moment's warning."

Four more of the furnaces at Carnegie, Phipps & Company's Homestead mills were banked yesterday evening on account of the accidental burning of a boiler tube. The closing of these furnaces compels the closing down of the slabbing and plate mills, and one-half of the works are now idle, and a large number of workmen are out of employment in consequence.

The annual repairing has commenced at these works and the works will not be able to resume operations prior to July 15. About 1,500 mechanics are employed on the repairs.

"The Carnegie Steel company, limited," will be the name of the combined Carnegie associations on and after July 1. It is believed but little interest will be taken in the iron scale. Said one of the officials yesterday: "The aim of the company is to get out of the iron business. Steel is the thing we shall handle. Our union mills alone will be affected, and the puddling furnaces at these works are being gradually abandoned."

The Amalgamated association officials are greatly elated over the receipt of the signature of the National rolling mill and tube works, of McKeesport, one of the largest in the United States, to the new scale. The Oliver Iron and Steel company has also signed the scale.

The report that the Homestead employees of Carnegie, Phipps & Company would be discharged on Friday and new men hired in their places has just been officially denied.

THE BOXWELL LAW.

Country Lads and Lasses Prove the Worth of the Measure.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—The so-called Boxwell law passed by the legislature this year is proving to be immensely popular, as is shown by official documents in the office of the state commissioner of schools.

This law, briefly stated, provides for the higher education of country boys and girls. County school examiners are authorized to hold examinations of pupils of sub-districts and special districts on the first Saturday of April and May of each year with a view to determine the fitness of pupils desirous of doing so to enter high schools, and the board of education of the district in which pupils reside are authorized to pay the tuition of such pupils in the high schools.

Some counties did not pay any attention to the law this year. No examinations were held in Brown, Coshocton, Darke, Franklin, Geauga, Harrison, Licking, Logan, Marion, Monroe, Putnam, Shelby or Union counties. Returns so far made, however, indicate that 2,131 pupils of country district schools offered themselves for examination, of whom 1,341 were found to be qualified for admission to the high schools.

This clearly indicates the desire of the country boys and girls to obtain more learning than that which is afforded by the cross-roads knowledge factory and may result in the law being amended as many say they would like to have it amended, so as to make it compulsory on the district school boards to pay the tuition at the nearest high school in the county of all who desire to attend and pass the required examination as to fitness.

Under the old laws no provision was made for the attendance of country children at high schools, and if they entered they had to pay their own tuition. Educators from all sections of the state are giving enthusiastic approval to the law and its author, Mr. Boxwell, the Warren county representative, may properly feel proud of it.

NEW ORLEANS, June 29.—The general assembly has passed a bill whereby lotteries will not be allowed in the state after Dec. 31, 1903. The act exempts from its operations the premium bond drawing of the city.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS.

State Ticket Nominated at the Fort Wayne Convention.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 29.—It was 1:15 o'clock when Chairman Fairbanks called the Republican state convention to order. After all the delegates were supposed to be seated the spectators were admitted to the remaining seats and the crowd soon filled every part of the hall. The credential committee reported no contests. Committee on resolutions then reported platform by Marcus R. Sulzer, chairman.

The platform opens by approving the Minneapolis platform and the renomination of President Harrison. It says: "The administration of the national government under his leadership has been marked by such wisdom and patriotism as to impress the whole country and give abundant assurance that its continuance will add luster to the American name and increase the comfort of the American home."

The Minneapolis nominees are then endorsed; debt and Democracy are declared to be synonymous terms, and the Democratic management of state affairs denounced as improvident and calculated to involve the state in hopeless debt and impair the credit of the state unless checked.

The platform denounces the new Democratic tax law as imposing on the farmer, laborer and householder an unjust share of public burdens, demands its radical revision and pledges the Republican party to enact such a tax law as will relieve the farm and the home from the unjust taxation now imposed on them and place a just share on capital and corporate property.

The last legislature is charged with increasing fees and salaries of state and court officers; again denounces the congressional and legislative gerrymander; denounces the declaration of Democracy in favor of repealing law imposing 10 per cent. tax on state bank issues and to open the way again to wildcat banking.

The Democratic party is denounced for making the benevolent institutions partisan, and non-partisan management demanded. Revision highway laws are demanded.

Enactment railroad safety car coupler demanded; organization of labor approved; the generous pension laws of Republican congress are commended, and provision for the care and maintenance of indigent soldiers and their families be made, therefore declaring in favor of establishment of a state soldiers' home.

A tribute is paid to the memory of the late Governor Alvin P. Hovey, and sympathy tendered to Blaine and his family in their affliction.

There was great cheering at the reference to Harrison and the epigram that "debt and Democracy are synonymous terms," but most vociferous applause greeted the pension plank and the declaration in favor of a state soldiers' home. When the name of Blaine was reached in the sympathy resolution the convention broke into wild cheering, and it was some time before the reader could proceed.

The roll was then called for nominations for governor. Judge Hadley, of Danville, Hendricks county, nominated Ira J. Chase. There were five seconding speeches. The principal ones being made by Congressman Cheadle and Charles F. Griffin.

Senator Robert J. Loveland, of Miami county, nominated State Senator Theodore Shockney, of Union City. After another seconding speech for Shockney, there being no other nominations, the roll call on the first ballot proceeded, but before it was finished it was plainly seen that Chase had received a majority of the votes, and his nomination was made unanimous.

The ticket was then completed as follows: For lieutenant governor, Theodore Shockney; for secretary of state, Aaron Jones; for auditor, J. M. Coombs; for treasurer, J. F. Scholz; for attorney general, Judge Joseph D. Ferral.

Rev. Pomerene Laid to Rest.

CANTON, O., June 29.—The remains of Rev. DaCosta Pomerene, who was killed in the Pennsylvania wreck at Harrisburg, were buried yesterday at Berlin, Holmes county, the home of the unfortunate young man. Mr. Pomerene was on his way to Canton to attend the wedding of his brother, Attorney Atlee Pomerene, and Miss Marie Bockius, when he met his death. Rev. Pomerene was engaged to marry a charming young lady of Salem in a short time.

Three Doctors on Trial.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Dr. John Arthur Irwin, who, it is alleged, with Dr. Frank Ferguson and Dr. Irving H. Hance, on May 13, 1889, performed an illogical autopsy on the body of Mind Roader Bishop, was arraigned for trial yesterday. All three doctors were indicted. They will be tried separately. Both sides had submitted their testimony when court adjourned for the day.

Prisoner Pardoned.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—Frank Rutherford, the Cincinnati wife murderer, was pardoned by Governor McKinley yesterday upon the certificates of the penitentiary warden and physician that he was in imminent danger of death from paralysis. He was sentenced to twenty years last January for stabbing his wife with a pair of shears.

LONDON, Ont., June 29.—Neill, the man who is being tried in London for blackmail and who is suspected of having poisoned several girls, formerly had an office here, where he was known as Dr. Thomas Neill Cream. He was tried for murdering a woman, whose body was found in a closet, but was acquitted.

Hunter Accidentally Killed.

PROHIBITION WORK.

General John Bidwell Will Be the Standard Bearer.

HIS NOMINATION ASSURED.

One Ballot is All That Will Be Necessary to Make Him the Nominee for President—Some Doubts About Who Will Take the Second Place—Preliminary Work of the National Prohibition Convention at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 29.—General John Bidwell, of California, who was a congressman from that state away back in the sixties, will be the standard bearer of the national Prohibition party in the coming campaign. The boom for William Jennings Demorest, of New York, whose candidacy has been actively promoted throughout the country for several months, appears to have petered out, and the Californian's nomination is claimed by his friends on the first ballot, if not by acclamation.

For the second place Joshua Levering, a wealthy Baltimore coffee merchant, and of local note as a philanthropist, is in the lead, with Henry Clay Bascom, of New York, and A. A. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, following close behind.

Yesterday was a warm day among the Prohibitionists, and the white haired and spectacled delegates are bemoaning the fact that the degenerating influences of modern political methods have crept in among the followers, and that the good old times when the delegates sang temperance hymns to camp meeting tunes and discussed the availability of candidates without heat or passion or personal vituperation have gone perhaps to return no more.

The contest of the opposing factions was inaugurated almost immediately upon the arrival of the New York delegation. It had been confidently expected by the scattering Demorest following from other states that this delegation would be solid for the New Yorker, but much to their dismay and chagrin, it was very speedily developed that he had but 30 out of the 110, and that the majority were either for Bidwell or on the fence.

If the minority was small, however, it was active, and it brought in its train a goodly sized contingent of young political workers, who lost no time in going into the thick of the fray. They decorated themselves with badges; scattered lithographs of their candidate right and left, and then proceeded to visit the various headquarters, not so much to sound his praises as to decry the opposition.

The Bidwell supporters, however, refused to return the fight with the same missiles. They contented themselves with the declaration that the party did not want a man who sought the office—that the office should seek the man, and that Demorest, in their opinion, was incapacitated in many ways from being considered as an available nominee.

Not even in Minneapolis in the heat of the anti-convention campaign was as much vituperation indulged in as has been current here. All kinds of charges affecting not only his general availability but his moral character were brought against the Californian, and some of these of a character unlikely to find their way in type, were put upon paper and passed around.

Having said so much they proceeded to devote themselves with energy and enthusiasm to missionary work among the delegations, and as fast as these arrived they were met by committees, who explained the situation and sounded the praises of the California candidate, and so successful were they in these tactics that now a majority of the delegates and visitors are sporting the Bidwell badges, and even the most enthusiastic friends of the New York candidate admit that unless there is a change in the situation his name may not be presented to the convention.

At the Pennsylvania caucus last evening a straw vote showed that nearly every delegate would go to Bidwell on the first ballot.

The national committee yesterday afternoon decided upon ex-Governor John P. St. John as temporary chairman.

A warm debate was precipitated by Rev. Samuel Small, who called attention to the fact that a resolution adopted at his instance four years ago, and which prohibited the national committee from using its funds for the employment of campaign speakers in the field had not been lived up to.

Chairman Dickie replied that the resolution in question endowed the committee with discretionary power. This Small denied, but after a somewhat heated colloquy the action of the committee was sustained.

The movement for a fusion with the People's party which assemblies at Omaha on Saturday received something of an impetus from a meeting held at the Palace hotel yesterday afternoon, and of which Miss Frances Willard was the promoter. The opposition turned out in force but were outnumbered, and resolutions favoring fusion were adopted.

The conference in favor of fusion was attended by over 300 people. The minority made a considerable uproar, shouting, "No Gresham!" "No fusion!" "No change in name!" Speeches urging fusion were made by Evans, of New York, and several Illinois delegates.

A telegram from Senator Peffer urging a conference to appoint a few discreet persons to attend the Omaha convention for the purpose of conferring with some of the leaders regarding fusion was read.

The following resolutions were adopted declaring that a friendly feeling exists between the Prohibition and People's party upon economic questions of the day, and recommending to today's convention that the national committee be authorized to confer with the People's party with a view to a union, provided that the suppression and prohibition of the liquor traffic be not left out of the platform.

A committee was appointed to present the matter to the Prohibition and Omaha conventions. The committee is composed as follows: W. H. Boles, of Illinois; George R. Malone, of Michigan; Miss Frances Willard, Colonel Felter, of Illinois; Mrs. Emery, of Michigan; Judge East, of Tennessee, and Ira Maine, of Indiana.

The Illinois delegation at a caucus last night decided to place in nomination for the presidency ex-Judge David McCullough, of Peoria, and to stick to him so long as there was a chance for his nomination.

The New York delegation decided to present no candidate from that state as a body. It leaves any delegate at liberty to make any nomination he might think proper.

The platform promises to be a model and will be written by the shrewdest men in the party. On the silver question it will probably advocate the purchase and coinage by the government of all silver produced in the United States. While this will inflate the currency it will at the same time prevent the big silver owners from reaping the benefit and will be in the interest of the people at large. It will say that all speculation in the issuing of money should be prevented, and that the government should have the benefit of all issuances.

On tariff it will oppose protection as well as free trade. It will advocate that the tariff should be practically prohibitory on all countries that in turn levy a tariff upon American products.

It is proposed to raise the residue of revenue necessary to carry on the government by a graduated income tax. So far as a change of name is concerned, if any is recommended it will be "Home Party," but as the benefits to be derived from a change of name are small it is likely that the present one will stand.

REMARKABLE ROBBERY.

Daring Deeds Done by Five Masked Men.

HENNEPIN, Ill., June 29.—A remarkable and successful robbery was perpetrated at Magnolia, a village twenty miles from here, on the night of June 26, news of which has just reached here. About midnight five masked and armed men forced an entrance to the Magnolia House, in which were five guests.

After gagging and binding the landlord and his wife and the hired man, securing their valuables, and frightening the woman servants into silence, the robbers aroused the guests, marched them out in line in the hall, and while two desperadoes stood guard over them, the other robbers ransacked the rooms, securing $1,200 worth of plunder.

The gang then made their escape, threatening their victims with death in case of pursuit. John Soboski, Prohibition candidate for governor of Missouri, was one of the victims and the only one to recover his nerve. After failing in his endeavor to organize a posse for pursuit he finally mounted a horse and started in pursuit after the robbers alone, overtaking three of them camped in a ravine.

A skirmish followed in which Soboski's horse was killed under him but neither he nor any of the robbers were seriously hurt. Soboski being thrown to the ground, the robbers took the opportunity to escape and dashed away. He walked to Waukegan, and after giving the authorities a description of the robbers, left for Cincinnati to attend the Prohibition convention.

WHO WERE TO BLAME.

Coroner's Jury Places the Responsibility for the Harrisburg Wreck.

HARRISBURG, June 29.—The coroner's jury investigation as to the cause of and who is responsible for the recent railroad disaster in this city, closed at noon yesterday, and rendered the following verdict:

First, we find that H. S. Hayes, the Steelton operator, was guilty of gross neglect in allowing the second section of No. 9 to run on the block before the first section had left the block between Steelton and Dock street towers.

Second, Robert M. Brown guilty of grossly neglecting his duty as a flagman in not going back far enough and placing caps on the track, and remaining until the second section arrived to flag it.

Third, that the engineer, Hugh Kelly, is charged with gross neglect in not having his train under full control on approaching Dock street tower, and running past the danger signal and running into the first section, causing the wreck.

Fourth, we censure the Pennsylvania Railroad company for allowing a local freight train to be on a passenger track on the time of an approaching passenger train.

Engineer Kelly has been placed under bail for future appearance if wanted.

SMALLPOX IN CHICAGO.

The Windy City Threatened with Another Epidemic.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Chicago is threatened with another smallpox epidemic. One man died of the disease last Friday in the pesthouse, where he had been removed after exposing several other persons.

Smallpox is now raging in the immigrant quarters in New York and Pittsburgh, and from both these places travelers are constantly coming west through this city. The disease exists in several towns along the Ohio river, in Iowa, and other places from which there is constant travel to Chicago.

Health Commissioner Ware received yesterday from the state board of health at Springfield a letter warning him of the danger that threatens the city, and in accordance with advice contained in the letter Dr. Ware has arranged for free vaccination at the city hall.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

CONSIDERABLE WORK DONE.

Appropriation Bills Occupy Most of the Time in the Senate, While a Number of Pension Bills Are Passed in the House, Some of Considerable Importance.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The session of the senate was longer than it has been for several weeks past, and was very interesting. Immediately after it was called to order Mr. Hale, Republican, of Maine, spoke at considerable length upon the resolution which he introduced Monday. During the discussion of the resolution which was entered into by Mr. Vest, Democrat, of Missouri, there was an exchange of personalities as to the respective interests of Chairman Campbell, of the Republican committee, and Mr. Whitney on the Democratic side, in trusts, the resolution being finally laid over.

The consideration of general appropriation bills was then resumed, Mr. Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, remarking that he urged the senators to give all the time possible between now and Thursday for their consideration.

The agricultural appropriation bill was passed with an amendment, and after some discussion on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the senate, at 5:30, adjourned.

Yesterday was soldiers' day in the house, the committee on invalid pensions being accorded the floor. For the first time this session the war veterans had a hearing, the bills being passed to pension army nurses now without means of support, who served for six months in caring for and nursing the sick and wounded; to provide a pension of $50 per month for non-specific disabilities and the bill to remove the disabilities of those who participated in the rebellion, and who have since enlisted in the navy or army of the United States and become disabled. Mr. Meredith, Democrat, of Virginia, opposed the former bill on the ground that these nurses had already been paid and should not be further rewarded. Mr. Smith, Republican, of Illinois, enlarged upon the general and the noble nurses in particular, who worked so zealously during the war. His philippic excited considerable laughter and enlivened an otherwise dull session. The house then adjourned.

SWEEP AWAY AT SEATTLE.

Several Hundred Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Lost by Fire.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 29.—The entire stock and building of Schwabacher Brothers & Company, one of the largest general merchandise dealers on Puget sound, was destroyed by fire Monday night. The loss on the building is $80,000. The firm carried a stock worth $200,000, of which nothing was saved. The Northern hotel, next door, barely escaped destruction and is damaged several thousand dollars' worth by heat and water, and other minor damages done to contiguous structures foot up to $400,000.

At 6 o'clock in the afternoon the basement, in which are stored several hundred cases of oil, was discovered to be on fire. The fire department succeeded in confining the fire to the basement for an hour, but it finally communicated to the stock of wrapping paper and burst through the roof and gutted the structure with great rapidity. Sixteen streams played upon the fire and it was only through the phenomenal work of the fire department that the entire block, which contains some fine buildings, was saved.

During the fire a quantity of cartridges exploded and were sent flying in all directions. One bullet lodged in the side of Fireman Miller's head and the shock threw Fireman Berry Wall from the ladder at the second story. Two other firemen in the basement were stunned by the report and almost suffocated, being rescued only with the greatest difficulty. The insurance will probably cover the total loss.

LEGAL EXECUTIONS.

Two Men Pay the Penalty of Murder Upon the Scaffold.

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 29.—John Thornton was hanged in the jail yard here at noon yesterday. The execution was repulsive in the extreme. When the drop fell the rope nearly severed Thornton's head from his body. Many of the spectators were overcome by the horrible sight. When he mounted the scaffold Thornton protested that he was innocent of the crime for which he was to suffer.

Another Hanging.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 29.—William Black was hanged in the jail yard here at noon yesterday, for the murder of Georgia Smith in January last. Both parties were negroes. The victim was the seven-year-old daughter of Black's paramour. The execution was successfully carried out.

Express Train Derailed.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Boston and Albany express was derailed by a broken rail while entering the Grand Central station from Boston yesterday. The passengers were shaken up, but no one injured. Traffic was blocked for an hour.

Chief Justice Fuller's Brother Dead.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 29.—Henry Weld Fuller, the only brother of Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States supreme court, died in this village yesterday aged sixty-one years.

"C. AND S.—Cleveland and Success," is the way the Newport Journal puts it.

"If hypocrisy is the homage vice pays to virtue, reciprocity may be called the homage prohibitory protection pays to genuine tariff reform."—Glover Cleveland.

LEXINGTON Republicans ratified the other night and it is said Colonel Bradley's frequent references to Blaine "were greeted with prolonged applause." As far as reports go there were no cheers for Harrison and Reid.

The names Cleveland and Stevenson are too long for the boys on a "hurrah," but Cleve and Steve will furnish them a clean cut yell, says the Portsmouth Times. The Ledger can find lots of "symphony" in Cleve and Steve.

"GENERAL STEVENSON is a bigger man than some men suspect. I succeeded him in the Postoffice Department, and the condition of things which I found on taking hold of affairs demonstrated to my mind that he was a man of first-class executive ability. Everything was in good shape." General Clarkson, late Chairman of the Republican National Executive Committee, pays the above tribute to the Democratic nominee for Vice President. But some Republicans say Mr. Stevenson is "a small man." They probably measure him by their own standard.

A TALK FROM WOOLEN WORKERS.

The Kensington Reform Club of Philadelphia, composed entirely of woollen workers, presented a petition to Congress April 6, 1892, in which they exposed some of the fallacies of the Republicans' pet measure, the McKinley bill.

"The stubborn perversity and dishonesty of the protectionists," they say, "is nowhere better shown than in their steady refusal to correct the glaring inconsistencies and mischievous discriminations of the tariff laws even after their attention had been called to them repeatedly. One is the discrimination against American manufacturers involved in the adjustments of duties between raw materials and the finished products, and the other the placing of a heavier tax upon the poor man's necessities than upon the rich man's luxuries. We called their attention to these points as far back as the spring of 1886, and the protectionist National Association of Woollen Manufacturers pointed out substantially the same errors in their letter to the Secretary of the Treasury in the fall of 1885, and hence they could not consistently overlook it, and yet in the make-up of the McKinley act this infernal piece of injustice was not only retained but made worse than ever.

"This shows that in a vicious and determined purpose to serve a few masters they lost sight entirely of their duty to do justice to the people. In fact, it appeared to be a pleasure to them to shift the burdens of taxation off the shoulders of the rich to those of the poor—to make labor the pack mule of the rich. The unanimous cry of the protectionist manufacturers now is that the McKinley law be let alone, because it is doing the manufacturers a great deal of good. Yet in the face of this there has yet to be recorded one important instance of a raise of wages, while instances of the piling down of the wages are numerous.

"This is another evidence of their false pretenses and of the fact that labor never gets anything out of protection except the little end of nothing and such indisputable facts ought surely to open the eyes of the workmen to the real purpose of their protectionist friends—to rob them under the guise of friendship, for the benefit of the rich, and they ought to be strong enough to impel the toilers to rise in their manhood and throw off the shackles that have heretofore bound them to these insidious enemies."

Our citizens are busy cutting their wheat, which is good, working their tobacco, which is promising, and are trying to make an honest living.

In taking a ride the other day we thought some of our farmers had tried an experiment at raising a crop of spring wheat, but on close inspection we discovered that it was only "fox tail" that had come up in a cornfield which had been planted so wide we failed to discover the rows of corn at the first glance. Another field we saw was drilled, the owner of which having concluded he could raise corn without cultivating it. We fear he will fail as completely as the man who concluded he would learn his horse to live without eating.

LIEF ERIKSON'S HOUSE.

Professor Horsford Claims to Have Found Its Site.

BOSTON, June 29.—Professor E. N. Horsford, of Cambridge, claims to have discovered traces of the site of the house set up by Lief Erikson in the year 1000. It is near Gerry's Landing, on the Charles river. The larger part of the foundation of the house lies in the ancient highway leading to the river bank, and is now covered with grass. The professor says the outlines are in danger of obliteration, and asks permission to erect, at his own expense, an iron fence around the spot.

A reporter visited the spot, which lies just behind the Cambridge hospital, with the professor. Within one hundred feet of the hospital is a circular depression in the ground. Back of this was a ridge of considerable length, which was, according to Professor Horsford's theory, where the log house stood. It was this spot that he proposes to inclose. The sagas say that Lief's house was at a point where the river ran from southeast to northwest. This is the only point where it does so.

Walking up from the river one comes to a depression in the hillside where a hut once stood, one corner of which still shows the remains of a chimney. There is also a mound on the land, the top of which is hollow. This, according to the professor, is either a mound with the top caved in or the sight of a tower, such as the Norsemen used to construct. Certainly it is artificial. Terraces are still distinguishable on the slope of the hill. Behind these are depressions as though huts once stood there. From here Professor Horsford took the reporter to a point above Mount Auburn where there is a large amphitheater, one one side of which eight terraces could be easily counted; on the other, five. He will shortly have this inclosed by an iron fence.

GUARDING THEIR PROPERTY.

Northwestern Cattlemen Combine, for Self-Protection.

VINITA, I. T., June 29.—The stockmen of the northeastern portion of this territory have organized the Cattlemen's Protective Association of the Indian Territory, with headquarters at this place. The purpose is to protect themselves from loss by theft and otherwise of cattle which are shipped to market.

The means employed is the maintenance of inspectors at Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago, and later in the season what are termed "line riders," will be put along the Kansas and Missouri lines. The inspectors will look through all shipments of cattle from this section and cut out all which are shown by their brands to belong to members of this association if shipped by others than their owners.

NEGRO LYNCHED.

He is Given Five Minutes to Pray and Then Strung Up.

NASHVILLE, June 29.—Monday afternoon Mrs. Summers, a white lady living near Woodbury, was assaulted and outraged by a negro named Evers. The negro was captured late that night and locked up. His arrest was not made public until yesterday morning, when a mob of 500 men, led by a cousin of the outraged woman, made an attack on the jail.

They overpowered the guards, seized Evers and dragged him at the end of a rope to where the outrage was committed. He was fully identified by Mrs. Summers, and was immediately taken beneath a large elm tree. He was given five minutes in which to pray and was then strung up. The mob departed, leaving his body swinging from the tree.

Oldest Engraver Dead.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—John F. Prudhomme died last night at his home in this city, aged ninety-one years. He was the oldest engraver in this country, and it is believed in the world. He was born on the island of San Domingo and came to New York while quite young. There he learned the art of engraving under Editor Gimbridge. He became quite celebrated in his art. He engraved Trumbull's picture upon the signing of the declaration of independence, and did a good deal in the way of illustrating books for George M. Morris. N. P. Willis and other celebrated authors. He was curator of the National Academy of Design and for a time was the instructor of the life class in that institution.

See Lug Vessels Seized.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—A telegram was received at the navy department yesterday from Captain Johnson, commanding the United States steamer Mohican, dated at Sitka, Alaska, announcing the seizure of the vessels Kodack, Lottie and Jennie for violation of the rodons vivendi. The seizure occurred near Cook's inlet, and the vessels were taken to Sitka. No further details are given, but it is assumed that the vessels are American registered and that the Mohican has returned to Behring sea.

Blaize's Probable Successor.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The question of filling the vacant secretaryship of state was discussed at the cabinet meeting yesterday. Although the conclusion can not be officially stated, it is probable that General J. W. Foster, now agent for the government in conducting the Behring sea negotiations, will be named to fill the vacancy.

Cholera Spreading in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—Notwithstanding strenuous efforts to stay the plague, cholera is spreading in trans-Caucasia and along the shores of the Caspian sea, and it seems but a question of a short time when the disease will enter European Russia. Great alarm exists not only on the frontiers, but in interior. The military authorities have been instructed to use the soldiers at Baku and other places in clearing the streets and enforcing sanitary regulations.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 29.—Dr. Myles J. Greene, grand secretary of the Grand Lodge of Alabama, and one of the most prominent Masons in this state, died suddenly at his home here Monday.

NEW ORLEANS, June 29.—It was decided yesterday that no successor to Senator Gibson shall be chosen at the present session of the legislature, the various candidates having agreed that it is impossible to break the present deadlock. By this arrangement Senator Gibson will serve until 1895.

A Freak Egg.

Farmer Corsegia, of south Jersey, has a rather neat thing in the way of freak eggs, the production of one of his Cochins. What the hen tried to do was to lay two eggs at once, but she only partially succeeded. Having produced one complete egg correct in size and shape, she managed, in trying instantly to duplicate it, to inclose it in a flexible sack of semiopaque skin, which also contained the complete yolk and white of another egg. The effect was therefore that of a hard egg and an egg that has been dropped out of its shell, both inclosed in a seamless bag about four inches long and two inches wide.

After accomplishing this very unusual feat Farmer Corsegia's Cochins hen raised such a disturbance in order to call attention to her achievement that she was set upon by half the feathered inhabitants of the barnyard and forced to roost on the henhouse roof to escape their jealous wrath. The row having attracted a farm hand's notice, he investigated the cause and the Cochins prize production was carefully placed in a cigar box filled with bran and taken to Farmer Corsegia.—Philadelphia Record.

The Fatal Thirteen.

Nov. 29, 1891, F. C. Cole, an old soldier, died at the county hospital. A few veterans went to the hospital through a driving snowstorm to give him a soldier's burial. The ceremony was simple and none but the veterans were present to do honor to the dead man. As they left the cemetery a superstitious comrade found that he was one of a party of thirteen. He declared at once that some one of the number would die within the coming year. "I don't know who it will be," he said, "but the sign is certain." "I know," said Captain J. S. Jones; "it will be you, Hall," and he pointed to Lieutenant A. D. Hall. Recently twelve of those who attended Comrade Cole's funeral went to Oakwoods to lay away the body of Hall.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

No Boom at Jerusalem.

The land speculation scheme which was associated with the railroad project seems to have come to grief, and the land boom near Jaffa and Jerusalem, started a year or two ago, has collapsed. There is much fertile land near Jaffa and on the plains of Sharon, and the Jaffa oranges are in great demand, like our Florida Indian river oranges, but so many discouragements are thrown over all industrial enterprises by the Turkish government, that while Palestine continues under the control of that dog-in-the-manger power there is not much prospect of any great amount of business development in that country.—Washington Star.

Runs a Freight Train Without Rails.

A new way of railroading has been started in this section. Jacksonville is a small country town about ten miles from Homer City and has no railroad. An enterprising farmer from near that point, who owns a very good traction engine, has started a train for the purpose of hauling freight to and from that place. He leaves in the forenoon and makes the return trip in the afternoon. The chances are the traffic will be heavy over his line all summer.—Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

To Oppose English Lawyers.

A society has been formed in London under the title of the Witnesses' Protection society. The objects of the association are to protect witnesses from insult by counsel, to put the matter of contempt of court into the hands of a jury, and to raise a fund to indemnify contumacious witnesses from pecuniary loss, provided always that the questions they refuse to answer reflect upon their honor, and are at the same time irrelevant to the issues of the case.

Look Out for a Sudden Change.

Now is the time when you should avoid sudden changes of air. Shut the window before the street organist finishes his operatic selection and commences "Annie Rooney."—Boston Bulletin.
